THE NEW YORK BROTHERHOOD CLUB WILL REECT OFFICERS TO-DAY.

ne of the Men Who May Lead the Cinb During the First Senson-The Outlook in Washington-Other Ball News. To-day, beginning at 11 A. M., an important meeting of the New York Club of the Players' League will be held at Judge Bacon's office, 100 Broadway. A number of the club's players are expected at the meeting, but the proceedings will hardly partake of anything unusual. The election of officers will be the principal matter, but it is not at all probable that there will be any contest for the several positions. Col. McAlpine is named for the Presidency, and he has no opposition. Edward Talcott will likely be Secretary and Treasurer. and then a Board of Directors will be chosen. In a talk with a Sun reporter yesterday John Ward said he bardly thought Frank Brunell would be a candidate for the Presidency of the Players' League. "It's a position, hownell would be a candidate for the Freedoney of the Players' League. "It's a position, however, that requires a hustler, and I know of no ene better fitted for the place than Brunell.

Mr. Haynes, President of the Oliver Dittson Company of Boston, is also spoken of in connection with the place. He would be an excellent man indeed; but you will have to excuse me from saying anything regarding the matter. I really don't know any more than you do who will be the selection.
"Have you signed any man recently?"
"Yes. Jake Beckley sends his contract on signed from his home at Hannibal, Mo., and Gus Weyning of the Athletics has signed to play with the Brooklyn Cinb.
"I wish you would deny for me," continued Ward, the statement that the players are signing two sets of contracts, it is not so.
Every man has signed the same kind of a contract. Such stories are circulated to injure us and nothing else.
"A sporting paper guarantees to give $100 for four contracts that can show the names of Tiernan, Murphy, Hatfield, and Welch upon them. I don't think I will ask for the $100, but I can show an absolute contract signed by these four men to play ball for the season of 1890,"
"What position will the Players' League

these four men to play ball for the season of 1890."

"What position will the Players' League take in the case of deserters?"

"They will be made to stand by their contracts. The gentlemen who have made investments particularly on account of the character of some of the players will not. I know, stand by idly and allow men to broak faith with them. We expect to do with the players what we agreed to and we expect them to do the same. There are some persons connected with the new organization who want us to retailate, that is, go into the oid League ranks and try to get some of their men. But this will never be done with any organization that I am connected with. Somebody's got to assume an honorable stand, or else base ball will degenerate into a disorganized body."

"What about the Brooklyn Club?"

"Oh, it is getting along swimmingly, We want two more pitchers and a catcher, then it will be full. I expect to get the three men this week, and I will very likely sign a catcher today."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The base ball patrons will be full. I expect to get the three men this week, and I will very likely sign a catcher today."

Washington are very much cut up over the announcement that neither Wilmot or Hoy will be members of the Senatorial team next season. The fact that Wilmot is to play with the Chicago League Club in 1890 is substantiated by the official promulgation of his contract from League headquarters. The circumstances which led to the transfer of Wilmot to the Spalding contingent are these: Wilmot's first season here was not a brilliant success, because he was unwell for a long time and did not do himself or his club justice on the field. Last year, however, he returned to the carital city in excellent condition, and soon demonstrated that he was one of the star outfielders of the League, Wherever he appeared his work in the field, at the bat and on the base lines was one of the principal features of the tailenders' game. When the season closed several of the leading clubs expressed a desire for his services, and his head may have become slightly inflated by the scramble for him. He went to his home in Minneapolis, and then announced that he would not play in Washington again under any circumstances, and intimated that he proposed to retire from the ball field.

By some means Spalding heard that Wilmot had expressed a willingness to play with the Chicago Club, so the necessary permission was obtained, and he at once opened negotiations with him, and terms were agreed upon, providing they were acceptable to Mr. Hewitt. The latter at first hesitated, but when he learned that it was a question of allowing Wilmot to go to Chicago or lose his services altogether he consented to the deal and the hands of President Young.

As to Hoy, the deaf and dumb wonder of the Senatorial combination, he has declided to sink and the check placed in the hands of President Young.

As to Hoy, the deaf and dumb wonder of the Senatorial combination, he has decided to sink or awim with the Brotherhood combination. He was in this city a few days ago, and had a long conference with Mr. Hewitt about next season. They went over the ground very fully and they could not agree on terms. Various propositions were submitted on both sides, but when the conference ferminated Hoy stated that he would take his chances with the rest of the boys in the Brotherhood scheme.

Umpire Lynch has written to President Young stating that he is prepared to sign a League contract for next season, as he has every confidence in the stability of the eld organization. He was notified that he need give himself no uneasiness, as he would assuredly be a member of the League staff in 1890.

Getting Rendy for the Coming Scason Some Good Games,

The handball cranks had a rare treat at Champion Phil Casey's court, in Brooklyn, on last Saturday afternoon, in the shape of a match between Barney McQuade and ex-Alderman Jim Dunn. It proved to be one of the best-fought games of the season, and while Mc-

Quade suffered defeat, it cannot be laid to the door of poor playing; it was simply that he caught the ex-Alderman in great shape. Five games were played, Dunn winning three out of the first four.

A rattling four-handed match was subsequently played between Champion Casey and Paul Dunn against John Malcolm and James McAvoy. It was a difficult task for the champion, for, while having a fairly good partner, the brunt of the playing devolved upon himself. He played an astonishing game throughout but the odds were too strong against him and McAvoy and Malcolm won by the following scores:

Who is it?
Another delegation of handball experts intend to visit Ireland next summer. The party will comprise ex-Alderman Dunn, Barney MeQuade, Eddie Moran, Charley Johnston, Puglist Sullivan's backer, and Champion Casey. They will be absent about six weeks, and it is expected that games will take place at Queenstown, Cork, Fernose, Middleton, Athey, Dublin, Carlo, Rathdowny, and other noted places.

The half a hundred spectators that gathered at Bweeny's handball court on Thirty-fifth street on Saturday saw a four-handed game which they enjoyed hugely. The contestants were James Tracy and Maurice Sullivan vs. John Delancy and George Hanley. The games were exciting throughout. The betting was spirited, and much money changed hands on the result. Tracy and Sullivan won the first game, while their opponents captured the next. The third game was the most exciting of all. Tracy and his partner winning by but one point. The scores were as follows:

280,000 for a Sullivan-Jackson Fight. BUFFALO, Dec. 8 .- Arrangements are being made here for an event that will be conspicuous in pugilistic circles if present plans are carried out. The Erie County Athletic Club, which was organized here last week, has decided to offer a purse of $30,000 for a glove contest between John L. Sullivan and Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist.

It was at first thought it would be impossible to bring the men together on account of Sullivan's notorious dislike for colored fighters, but it seems the size of the purse has induced the Boston man to change his mind. No reply has yet been received to a telegram sent to Parson Invies, Jackson's manager, but it is not thought he will decline. The fight is expected to take place about the last of February, on the occasion of the opening of the club's quarters. The club controls a theatre building on Genesee street, near Michigan street, which is to be remodelled and altered. This place has been known as Genesee Hall and also as the People's Theatre. It is admirably suited for the use of an athletic club.

James C. Fullerton, a popular attorney, is the President of the club, and it has among its members many lawyers, politicians, exempt firemen, and men-about-town who take an interest in athletics, Ex-Assemblyman Jules O'Brien, who is a director, says that the offer is being made in perfect good faith, and that the club will experience no difficulty in raising the necessary funds. The only fear is that Jackson will not meet Sullivan. ers, but it seems the size of the purse has in-Boston, Dec. 8.-John L. Sullivan's generous heart has been tenched by the tragic deaths of Boston's firemen at the Thanksgiving Day blaze, and he has of-fered to spar for the benefit of their families if the City Fathers will give their consent. Two of the dead firemen. Murnane and Laker, were personal friends of Sulitivan, and he is anxious to do all in his power te alleviate the sufferings of those who are left behind. Sullivan has long tried, without success, to get the necessary the Chy Fathers wouldn't have:

The Fifth Avenue Biding Academy, Messrs, Antony & Runk, pro-prietors, is the only school where riding is taught thoroughly and systematically, under the personal supervision of Herr Carl Antony. The Belmont Riding Academy, St. Nicholas avenue and 142d street, owned by Mr. H. S. Dyer, has just been thrown open to the publis. It is the newest and one of the most elegantly appointed of its kind in the country, the ring being unusually large and well kept. It is steam heated, contains hot and cold baths. Splendid specimens of the saddle horse from Kentucky and driving horse from Maine are kept constantly on hand for sale. Messra wilmont & Jarvis of the Harlem Horse Exchange will sell at their building, 211 East 190th street, at 10:30 o'clock this morning a number of roadsters, business, carriage, and truck horses: also carriages, blankets, harness, and whips. This is a very elegant affair, arranged for two persons, with a seat for a footman behind. The sleigh is carved beautifully, and lined either with slik plush or green cloth, with panels to match. The sides of the sleigh are striped with gold and other fancy colors. The screen work, instead of being of leather, as ordinarily, is of gilded metal. Beautifully carved ongles heads project from the corners of the dashboard, and on the sides are carved heads of lions and tigers. The cost of these sleighs is from $300 to $500.

Messrs. Flandrau & Co. report a good business in broughams, reckaways, and extension front rockaways. They are sending a great many buckboards, surreys, and victorias to the south. Ohe of their latest designs in road wagons is the Austin wagon, built entirely of oak and trimmed with tan leather.

One of the most complete harness establishments in the city is that of R. H. Macy & Co., cerner of Sixth avenue and Fourteenth, atreet. Like every other branch of this big house it is noted for its low prices. This firm has recently opened a line of single harness, especially adapted for light delivery or express wagons. The goods are of the best material and workmanship and the prices at which they are offered are ridiculously low. Their stock of sleigh bells and plumes is the most complete and diversified to be found in the city. The harness devartment is on the third floor.

Messrs. Healey & Co. report a rattling good business in coup' rockawars and broughams. The stock which they constantly keep on hand in their big store contains every sort of pleasure vehicle now in fashion. They only sell carriages of their own make, all of as good workmanship as those that captured the first prize in the Paris Exposition. Their coup' rockaways are well built, of the very best material, and of good workmanship.

The Recine Wagon and Carriage Company, 1:5-155 Spring street, continue to do a good business in shipping delivery wagons out of town. The stock in their mammoth repository includes over 100 road wagons of all styles. Ranging in prices from $15 to $50 spices. Hesides these this company keeps in stock dry goods. laundry, grocers', butchers', bakers, elegant retail milk wagons (beveiled glass windows), general light delivery wagons out of town. Bargains in all kinds of wagons and carriages can be had at all times at the United States Wagon and Carriage Company, corner of Third avenue and Forty-ninth street. This company has a large assortment of harness constantly in stock, which it sells at low prices. The Hudson Wagon Company, 542 Hudson Street, has on hand 160 new and 10 second-hand wagons, all hand made and suitable for all purposes, which they are selling at very low prices. The wagons are all substantially built, of the very best material, and will stand lots of heavy work. of heavy work.

The New York Wagon Company is selling re-liable wagons at bottom prices. This company is noted for its thorough and cheap work.

The Lougfellows on Top. The cup match for the trophy offered by Mr. Shelton, and for the gold medals which were to be the reward of the individual players of the winning team, took place at the Ridgewood base ball grounds yesterday after-noon. The rain came down in torrents during the entire contest, and the grounds, on which the Brooklyns have scored many a victory, was the entire contest, and the grounds, on which the Brooklyns have scored many a victory, was a sea of mud. Novertheless nearly 200 spectators turned out to see the match.

Before the match was started it was agreed that the Longfellows were piaying under protest, because they claimed that the Nonparells had violated the agreement entered into on Thanksgiving Day, under which the Nonparells pledged themselves to play the same team, with the exception of probably one man, yesterday that they they had on the fleid Thanksgiving Day. In fact, they had only five men of the 'hanksgiving Day team, and among the substitutes were a number of good football players from the Thistle Football Club of New York, who were at the same time members in good standing of the Nonparell Club.

In the first half the game was very even, and, although two good attempts were made by the Longfellows for goal, no score was made until a few minutes before the call of time, when Robertson scored for the Nonparells. In the second half the ball was first at one end then at the other, until Leonard scored by making a goal for the home club. The Nonparells, not to be outdone, played at their best, and Purvis scored the second goal for them. After two minutes fafer Leonard another, after two minutes fafer Leonard another goal, the Longfellow's score, and, although the Nonparells draye the ball to their opponents' goal, the time was too short to allow the New York boys to score again. The Nonparells will probably protest the game on account of shortness of time.
